Green Post-Communism?: Environmental Aid, Polish Innovation and Evolutionary Political Economics (Routledge Studies of Societies in Transition) Mikael Sandberg

This book asks whether foreign aid can help post-communist societies to steer their technological innovation systems in more environmentally sound directions. Mikael Sandberg examines the legacy of Soviet-type innovation systems, then looks at opportunities for greener innovations in post-communist Poland, considering:

- * institutional transformation and environmental investment incentives
- * the persistence and spread of the first environmental aid projects
- * the adoption of national environment policies and the role of aid in their implementation
- * evidence of changing innovation systems in Central and Eastern Europe
